

Two events this Wednesday! The Warren G. Hardings Band and meet the artists of the 2016 Sculpture Art Walk

The term “presidential” takes on a different tone when The Warren G. Hardings take the stage this Wednesday, Aug 3rd from 11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. on the Snohomish County Plaza in Downtown Everett. This high-watt string band from Seattle delivers an infectious energy that will sway the caucus, groove the electorate, and get your vote for best finger pickin’ and fiddle strummin’!

The Warren G. Hardings band is heavily influenced by America’s roots, folk, and bluegrass heritage. The band has a deep affinity for the music of legendary bluegrass pioneers such as Bill Monroe and Flatt & Scruggs, as well as the countless artists following in their footsteps who have helped develop the genre to the rich and diverse art form it is today.

Grab lunch from one of the multiple food trucks, pick up a bag or two of kettle corn, or buy your friends some flowers. There are lots of local products to check out on site. This week’s Music on the Plaza concert amps up with the addition of an artists’ reception for the sculptors who are exhibiting their work on the County plaza.

All events are free and open to the public.

Musical performances every Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. through August 31:

- 8/03 The Warren G. Hardings, Americana Roots
- 8/10 Roemen and the Whereabout, Retro Soul
- 8/ 17 Country Lips, Classic Country
- 8/24 Rabbit Wilde, Americana Folk/Pop
- 8/31 Michelle Taylor, Rockin’ Blues

The 2016 Music on the Plaza Summer Lunchtime Concert Series is presented by the Snohomish County Arts Commission and is held every Wednesday through August 31, from 11:30a.m. to 1 p.m. on the Snohomish County campus located at the corner of Rockefeller and Wall Streets in downtown Everett, WA.
