2013 Aviation Day at Paine Field

Families and aerospace enthusiasts will delight in the 2013 Aviation Day festivities on Saturday, May 18th. The Washington Pilots Association and Paine Field Airport host this annual event that features vintage planes, warbirds and modern aircraft on display. There are bouncy houses, face paint and fire trucks to delight the kids while their folks dodge Seafair Pirates to take in car collections, the firefighter 5K and information booths. Take in the air show or sign up for a flight of your own! Come early for the pancake breakfast and stay all day!

Volunteer Event at Lake Stickney

On Saturday, May 18th there is a volunteer opportunity at the site of our new nature park on the west side of Lake Stickney. Help us nurture nature as we clean up debris and remove invasive plant species, like Himalayan blackberry and Reed Canary Grass. Activities begin at 10am and run until 2pm, so grab your gloves, put on your long sleeves and pants and meet at the west side of Lake Stickney in the big parking lot. Tools will be provided, and gloves if you need them. For more information, contact Lake Stickney Conservancy President Joyce Altaras at jaltaras@msn.com or 425-745-4553.

Celebration of Food Festival in Lynnwood

This free family event May 19th at the Lynnwood Convention Center is for anyone who likes to eat! The 2nd annual Celebration of Food Festival features chocolates and cheese, farmers and chefs, local businesses and free food for all. There will be a Kids Corner, featuring giveaways and activities, a reading tent and demonstrations designed just for them. Weekend gardeners can come meet farmers and view displays. Learn how to grow your own food at home - even if a window sill is your only plantable acreage. Fun, food and free - with samples - Sunday, May 19th from 11am-4pm.
