We are fairly new to this area. Listening and reading about the Point Wells project I'm surprised that so much money has been spent researching a project that has a two lane road as the only access. It seems to me that issue should have been addressed at the beginning of the planning process seven years ago. Also, the housing units and retail space are in Snohomish County but the Richmond Beach /Shoreline community and infrastructure would bear the brunt of the extra traffic. Which community would be responsible for emergency situations? If Snohomish County approves this project the access to Point Wells should be through Woodway in Snohomish County and not a two lane road through Richmond Beach.
