Snohomish County Hosts Public Event in Honor of 2018 National Public Works Week

County invites employees and community residents to celebrate the Public Works Departments' ongoing services on Wednesday, May 23 from 11:00 a.m. until 2 p.m.

EVERETT, Wash., May 16, 2018 – Snohomish County Public Works celebrates National Public Works Week by hosting an event at its downtown Everett campus on Wednesday, May 23, 2018. This year's national event, titled "The Power of Public Works," recognizes the hardworking and dedicated employees of Public Works organizations across the country who serve their communities. The 2018 annual recognition will occur between Sunday, May 20 and Saturday, May 26.

Join the Snohomish County celebration and get to know the faces behind the work being done in your neighborhood.

Snohomish County National Public Works Week on the Plaza

- When: Wednesday, May 23, 2016 from 11:00 a.m. until 2 p.m.
- Where: Snohomish County Plaza – 3000 Rockefeller Avenue, Everett, WA 98201
- What: A celebration of Snohomish County Public Works staff and services in the community.
 - Check out the Public Works service vehicles, tracking technology, and equipment used to keep the county moving
 - Understand the five divisions of Public Works – Transportation & Environmental Services, Engineering Services, Surface Water Management, Road Maintenance, and Solid Waste – and what they do in your neighborhood
 - Meet members of the team, discuss what they work on, and ask questions about projects in your area
 - Discover the resources and services Public Works provides
- Who: Public Works is the largest department of the Snohomish County government. The department helps to improve and maintain roadways, sustain clean streams and lakes, keep healthy salmon habitats, and provide residents with waste management services.
