

108th Street NE & 83rd Avenue NE Improvements

Public Works is designing a project along 108th Street NE in the area of 83rd Avenue NE. The project site is one mile east of Marysville city limits in unincorporated Snohomish County.

The plan includes modifying the profile of 108th Street NE for a length of approximately 800 feet. Geogrid reinforced slopes are also planned along the edge of the road to keep the project within the public right-of-way and minimize impacts to stream corridors. As part of the project, temporary dynamic speed signs have been installed to alert drivers to their vehicle speeds.

These signs will be removed once the project is finished.

The road will be closed during construction

Road construction is expected to begin in late June or early July 2012 and will require a full closure of 108th Street NE between the Centennial Trail Bridge and the east side of 83rd Avenue NE.

The closure could be up to two months in duration. Construction schedules are subject to change based on many factors, such as coordination with other agencies, availability of materials, and weather conditions.
