Council to declare Brotherhood Days in Snohomish County

The Snohomish County Council will be joined by Pastor Jason Martin on Wednesday morning as the Council declares Brotherhood Days in Snohomish County. The resolution follows the cross burning incident on the lawn of Pastor Martin's home in Arlington last week.

The meeting is at 9 a.m. on Wednesday March 31, 2004 in the Council Chambers, sixth floor, Administration building at 3000 Rockefeller in Everett. The Council will declare April 4th through the 10th, the week before Easter, as Brotherhood Days in Snohomish County. Pastor Martin is head of the Jesus is Lord Life Tabernacle in Arlington. He is expected to be joined at the council meeting by other area pastors.
