Shauna Boardman's Fine Art Photography on Display at the Robert J. Drewel Building in Everett

Exhibit runs October 14 – December 12, 2019

EVERETT, Wash., October 14, 2019 – The Snohomish County Arts Commission announced this week a new art exhibit by Snohomish County fine art photographer Shauna Boardman. The works will be on display from October 14 through December 12, 2019 in the main floor lobby of the Robert J. Drewel Building (3000 Rockefeller Ave, Everett, WA 98201).

From the artist: "I work in the medical field, but my passion has always veered toward photography and traveling. I decided to attend the Art Institute to learn more and expand my skills. I have always gravitated to Architectural Photography, but there, I was introduced to Fine Art Photography. It soon became more of an obsession than a hobby. Now, most of my spare time is either shooting or doing my craft, which is putting the photos on canvas or in frames and applying a series of glue, never glass. I hope you enjoy my images."

"Antique Roses"

"Red Dress"

"Angel"

The exhibit is free and open to the public during regular business hours. More information about the Snohomish County Arts Commission can be found at
